Summer Academy makes significant difference for at-risk students

Without summer activities to keep reading and math skills sharp, students start school in the fall about a month behind where they finished in the spring.

The "summer slide" in math is about the same for low-income students as it is for other students, but it is steeper in reading for low-income students because they don't have the same access to books and reading opportunities as students from higher income families.

basic skills in reading, writing, and math. Classes, taught by certified teachers, are small and tailored to meet the needs of the students. In the afternoons students take part in enrichment activities—such as arts and crafts, music, dance and field trips—that nurture creativity and increase positive self-image.

This year, 200 students will participate in Atlantic Street Center's Summer Academy, which will take place at Zion Preparatory Academy. The program is completely free to students and their families. Instead, costs are met through donations from foundations, corporations, churches and individuals.

An independent evaluation of Summer Academy is done each year, and results consistently show that students make gains in reading and math. In fact, last year 89% of Summer Academy students became better readers, and 95% improved math skills. In the words of Renee, a 4th grade student in the 2006 Summer Academy, "My math skills were horrible. I feel less upset now because I figured out stuff like long division."

There are several ways to get involved with Summer Academy! You can make a financial gift, donate an item from our Wish List (see page 7), or volunteer! Please contact us at (206) 329-2050 or ascinfo@atlanticstreet.org to learn more.

Without an opportunity to keep reading and math skills sharp, low-income students start the new school year a critical step behind their higher income peers. As these children progress through elementary and middle school, this academic divide becomes greater each year.

That's where Atlantic Street Center's Summer Academy Program comes in.

Summer Academy is a full-day, five-week summer school for kindergarten through 7th grade students, all of whom are falling behind in school academically or socially. In the mornings students focus on academics, working hard to strengthen

A message from our Executive Director

Dear Friends,

Welcome to our inaugural issue of "Family Connections," Atlantic Street Center's new and improved newsletter! We hope you enjoy the new look and feel of this publication, which will be published three times a year.

We are also thrilled to announce that our completely revamped website was unveiled earlier this year! We are really proud of our new site, which offers more comprehensive and accessible information about our programs and our organization. If you haven't seen our new site, please have a look the next time you're on-line: www.atlanticstreet.org. Many thanks to the Paul G. Allen Family Foundation for making our new website possible, and to NPower Seattle for their technical expertise and artistic vision.

I also wanted to let you know about a really exciting event coming up very soon: Atlantic Street Center Night With The Seattle Mariners. This event will take place on Thursday, July 12, as part of the Mariners versus Detroit Tigers game. I will throw out the first pitch at 7:05pm! For ticket information, please contact us at (206) 329-2050, ext 109.

We are also gearing up for our two fall fundraisers: Rev It Up for Kids on Saturday, September 8, and Big League Dreams on Thursday, October 18. We would love for you to attend one or both of these fun events! Please check our website at www.atlanticstreet.org/get-involved/attend-an-event for further details.

Programmatically, we are getting ready to start our annual Summer Academy Program. As many of you know, Summer Academy is our five-week educational and enrichment program for kindergarten through 7th grade students. The program is geared toward kids who have fallen behind academically and socially and is a chance for them to catch up with their peers.

Since its inception over 30 years ago, Summer Academy has helped thousands of kids—most of them participants at Atlantic Street Center—to improve their reading, writing and math skills, and given them the opportunity to take part in activities that broaden their world view and enrich their lives. Many of the kids have gone on to graduate from high school and later college.

Financial and in-kind donations, as well as volunteer help, are still needed for this year's Summer Academy program. It's not too late to help! Please contact us at (206) 329-2050 or ascinfo@atlanticstreet.org to learn more.

As you can see, there are lots of exciting things going on at Atlantic Street Center this year! We so appreciate your generous support, and hope that you have a safe and relaxing summer!

Sincerely,

Edith C. Elion, MSW
Executive Director

Atlantic Street Center kids participate in Future Champions Program

On March 10, a group of youngsters from Atlantic Street Center attended the 3A Boys & Girls State Basketball Championships at Bank of America Arena in Seattle as part of the Future Champions Program.

Future Champions is offered by the Washington Interscholastic Activities Association (WIAA). The program is designed to give youth throughout the state of Washington the chance to experience a fun-filled day at a WIAA State Championship Event. The event was made possible by a partnership with the Seattle Sonics and Storm. Many thanks to the WIAA and the Seattle Sonics and Storm!

Safeco, Mercer Island High School & Virginia Mason volunteer at Atlantic Street Center

Atlantic Street Center was fortunate to host two Day of Caring volunteer groups and one high school volunteer group this spring. On April 17, employees from Safeco Insurance (pictured at left) spent their Day of Caring at Atlantic Street Center. Then on May 14 we hosted a student group from Mercer Island High School, and the following day Virginia Mason employees (pictured at right) were here to volunteer their time. All three groups spent their time helping to beautify our grounds.

Thank you to Safeco, Mercer Island High School, and Virginia Mason!

Welcome, new board member!

Atlantic Street Center is pleased to welcome a new member to our Board of Directors:

Rhonda Staton is an Advertising Retail Sales Manager with The Seattle Times Company, where she has worked for the last 18 years. In addition to her expertise in the field of advertising, Ms. Staton has served on the Boards of the Women's University Club, the Seattle Advertising Federation, Mediation Services for Conflict Resolution, and the Mercer Island Chamber of Commerce. She and her husband have been residents of Mercer Island for 23 years. Welcome Rhonda!

Wish List

Summer Academy, our annual summer school program, will take place this year from July 5-August 10. Our program is in need of the following items. If you can help, please contact Teresa Everett at (206) 329-2050, ext. 124 or teresae@atlanticstreet.org.

Did You Know?

- In 2006, Atlantic Street Center served more than 3,300 children and their families.
- 93% of the parents participating in our family support services improved their parenting skills and increased positive communication within the family.
- A donation of just $54.16 to Atlantic Street Center can provide three hours of tutoring for one student.
- More than 84% of the people we serve are low income people of color.
- Last year, 92% of the students attending our Summer Academy Program experienced academic learning gains in math and/or reading.
- Atlantic Street Center is one of the oldest social service agencies in Seattle. In fact, we were one of four founding members of the "Community Chest," now better known as United Way of King County.

Watch the Fourth of July fireworks from atop Smith Tower!

Many thanks to the John L. Scott Foundation, Countrywide Home Loans, Davis Schuller, and Seattle Pacific Realty for sponsoring an exceptional event, "Cooks for Kids," on July 4th in the Chinese Room atop Smith Tower in downtown Seattle. The event is a benefit for Atlantic Street Center's programs and services. Guests will enjoy hors d'oeuvres by McCormick and Schmick's Catering, music by Steve Roy Latin Trio, and an auction of outstanding cooking and food-related items. The stunning Chinese Room will provide an incomparable vantage point for the spectacular fireworks displays around the Seattle area! There are a very limited number of tickets available. For information, please call Sharon Crane at (425) 737-2882.

Have a great idea about a way to help Atlantic Street Center? We'd love to hear about it! Contact us at (206) 329-2050, ext 127 or ascinfo@atlanticstreet.org.

Atlantic Street Center participant receives $10,000 scholarship

This summer, 2007 Franklin High School graduate Janel Brown won't be off on an exotic vacation or idling away the hours with friends. Instead, she will spend the summer starting her college career at the University of Washington.

"I am so excited to go to college!" says Janel.

Janel, pictured above, was one of just five seniors selected statewide to receive the Nordstrom Scholarship Award. Janel applied in her Junior year and was selected as a result of her excellent grades, as well as a written essay and personal interview.

Janel and the four other scholarship winners were honored at a gala event hosted by Nordstrom on January 25 at the Grand Hyatt in downtown Seattle.

As part of her award, Janel will receive a $10,000 scholarship to the college of her choice. She will attend the University of Washington, but is not yet sure what she will major in. "I am just so happy to be going to college and to explore different options," she says.

Janel has participated in counseling services at Atlantic Street Center for the last four years. She first came to Atlantic Street Center after she, her sister and her mother moved to Seattle to escape an unhealthy home environment.

For most of those four years, Janel has worked with therapist Susan Ward. "Susan has given me a venue to talk through my situation," says Janel. "She has given me a non-predjudiced ear, which has helped a lot."

Susan has seen many wonderful changes in Janel over the years. "It has been a pleasure seeing Janel grow and accomplish such great things during her high school career," says Susan. "I expect her to blossom even more in college and to succeed at whatever she puts her mind to. Her determination, intelligence, hard work and spirit will take her far."

Janel hopes to continue with services at Atlantic Street Center after she begins college. "Sometimes people just need someone to talk to," she says. "I truly appreciate everything Atlantic Street Center has done to help me."

We congratulate Janel on all she has accomplished, and wish her the best as she begins the next step in her education.

Mom finds help & support in teen parent program

When Zematra Bacon enrolled in the teen parenting class at Southlake High School, she was four months pregnant and concerned about what her future held. She had been having difficulty in school, and had just learned that she would need to move from her foster home placement. On top of all that, Zematra, pictured at right, would be the parent of a newborn in five short months.

Thankfully, she came to the Teens as Parents Program offered through Atlantic Street Center's Rainier Beach Family Center. There Zematra got one-on-one support from Parent Support Specialist Sherice Arnold and participated in the teen parenting class. Eventually she also began attending the weekly parent support group.

Once her baby, Zekyra, was born, Zematra had learned a great deal from Sherice and the Teens as Parents Program. "I learned how to care for a baby and about parenting skills," she says. "It really helped me."

Today, Zekyra is a happy nine month old baby and Zematra is doing well. She graduated from high school in June, and recently moved into her first apartment. She works full time at Safeway and has plans to begin college in the fall.

"I am so proud of what Zematra has accomplished in such a relatively short period of time," says Sherice. "No matter what she decides to do with her future, we will definitely be seeing great things from her."

Youth Recognition Event

On May 31, Atlantic Street Center staff joined parents and friends to recognize the accomplishments of 30 youth who participate in one or more of our programs. Congratulations to this year's award recipients:

Atlantic Street Center Launches New Website!

Atlantic Street Center is thrilled to announce the recent launch of our new and improved website. The new website is the culmination of months of hard work by Atlantic Street Center staff and NPower Seattle, "We are especially grateful to the Paul G. Allen Family Foundation for making our new website possible," said Edith Elion, Executive Director.

Thanks also go to NPower Seattle for their technical and artistic expertise. "They took the vision of our staff and board of directors and made it a reality," said Edith. "This was definitely a team effort."

The new website features easy to use menus and much more comprehensive information about programs, events, volunteer opportunities, and organizational operations. "We consider our new website to be the definitive source of information about Atlantic Street Center," said Edith.

We'd love to hear what you think of our new website! Visit us online at www.atlanticstreet.org and then drop us an email at ascinfo@atlanticstreet.org.
